The South-Carolina GAZETTE.

[Numb. 1951.] MONDAY, MAY 10, 1773.

CHARLES-TOWN: Printed by T. POWELL & Co. at the Printing-Office near the EXCHANGE.

Mr. POWELL,

THE Eſtabliſhment of a Work-Houſe and Houſe of Correction in Charles-Town, is a Deſign truly laudable, having for its chief Object the Chaſtiſement of Vice, and in ſuch a Manner as to become as ſmall a Burthen, and as great a Benefit, to the Public, as the Nature of the Caſe can poſſibly admit of. It therefore is certainly the Duty of every honeſt Citizen to teſtify his good Wiſhes towards ſo well intended an Eſtabliſhment, and with watchful Eye to take Notice of any Proceeding that might pervert Benefit, deſigned for the Public, to Emolument of any private Perſons. It is for this Purpoſe, Commiſſioners are appointed to be annually choſen by the Public Voice, and by this Means the Power of inſpecting, regulating and removing the Oeconomy of the Houſe, and the Manager or Overſeer thereof, is conſtantly placed in the Hands of Men whoſe Skill and Integrity are ſafely to be relied upon, for ſecuring the Benefit of ſuch an Eſtabliſhment: An Eſtabliſhment! which if properly attended to, may in Time produce a Reformation in the Morals and Conduct of the inferior and more abandoned Claſs of the Inhabitants of this Place, and become no inconſiderable an Addition to the Revenues of this Country.

The Act of the General Aſſembly of this Province, in the Ninth Year of the Reign of George II. gives Power to the Inhabitants of the Pariſh of St. Philip, to elect annually Five Perſons, Inhabitants of the ſaid Pariſh of St. Philip, to be Commiſſioners of the Poor of the ſaid Pariſh, and to raiſe a certain Sum by Means therein ſet forth, for building a good ſubſtantial and convenient Hoſpital, Work-houſe, and Houſe of Correction, for the Reception of the Poor of the ſaid Pariſh, and for keeping, correcting, and ſetting to work therein, Vagabonds, Common Beggars, and other lewd, idle, and diſorderly Perſons. And the ſaid Commiſſioners, or a Majority of them, have Power by the ſaid Act given to them, to appoint a fit Perſon to be the Warden or Maſter of the ſaid Work-houſe and Houſe of Correction, for a Term not exceeding Three Years, to take Charge of ſaid Houſes, and of ſuch Perſons as from Time to Time ſhould be committed to his Care.—And the Commiſſioners are alſo impowered to contract with ſuch Maſters or Wardens, to have and take ſuch Fees, Perquiſites, Profits, and Advantages out of the Profits of the Work and Labour of ſuch Perſons as ſhall be committed to the ſaid Work-houſe, or ſuch other ſtated and fixed Salary, as they ſhall think reaſonable, during the Term of his Appointment.

In Caſe any Perſon or Perſons ſhall be ſent to the Work-houſe or Houſe of Correction, NOT able to work, or the Profits of whoſe Work and Labour ſhall not be ſufficient for their Maintainance during their Stay, or if they be weak and ſick, they ſhall be relieved by the Warden of the Work-houſe; and if ſuch Perſon or Perſons ſhall happen to be Servants, the Expence of their Maintainance ſhall be paid by their Maſters or Miſtreſſes, &c.

The Maſter or Warden is obliged to keep a fair and regular Book, wherein he ſhall enter the Time of each Perſon's being committed, and keep an Account of all the Earnings and Profits of ſuch Perſon's Work and Labour, and ſhall render a full and true Account thereof, and of all his Tranſactions relating thereto, to the Commiſſioners once in every Six Months, or oftener, if they ſhall require the ſame. And the Commiſſioners, or the Majority of them, have Power and Authority from Time to Time, to make ſuch Rules, Orders, and Directions, for the better governing and keeping of the ſaid Houſe or Houſes, as they ſhall judge fit. And the Warden is obliged to obey and perform all ſuch Rules, Orders, and Directions, and to ſee the ſame complied with."

Now, Mr. POWELL, it plainly appears that the chief Object of this Act was, the Puniſhment of Offenders, and the reſtraining of Vice, by providing a proper Place where Delinquents might receive the Correction due to inferior Crimes; at the ſame Time to make a Part of that Puniſhment conſiſt of uſeful Labour, the Rigour of which ſhould prove a Penance to the Offenders; and a Benefit to the Public.

And as the Maſter or Overſeer is by this Act no more than a menial Servant of the Public, hired for Three Years, on ſuch Wages as he and his Contractors ſhall agree upon, diſmiſſible for Miſbehaviour, and whoſe Duty it is, either himſelf to inflict, or ſee properly inflicted, the ſeveral Puniſhments ordered to be given under his Juriſdiction—I cannot ſee the Occaſion for the general Suggeſtion in every Quarter of the Town, that the vaſt Undertaking now carrying on in the Houſe of Correction is on any other Principle, than ſuch as is laid down by the Act; for, ſhould it be otherwiſe, if as a new Thing it has hitherto eſcaped Notice, I dare ſay the worthy Commiſſioners will no ſooner diſcover any Impropriety, than the Public will be righted. I have lived many Years in this Town, and have been upon ſeveral public Buſineſſes, and always experienced that every Hint of an Abuſe was ſilently and duly attended to, and the ſame as ſoon as conveniently could be, was certainly removed. I am,

Yours, &c.

A FRIEND TO THE PUBLIC.

THOMAS GIBSON.

LONDON, FEBRUARY 23.

COLONEL Barré, by his spirited speeches in the House of Commons, has given such offence to the Ministers and to the King, that he is now turned entirely adrift. They could not deprive him directly of any of his military emoluments, without infringing the laws of the constitution; but a Scotch Officer was, contrary to the Military laws, hoisted over his head, to affront him. This had the desired effect, for the spirited Colonel felt the force of the affront, and resigned part of his emoluments.

The linen made of Ireland, so long and so justly famous for its superior excellence, is now declining very fast. This is in a great degree owing to the neglect of the Government, who do not give it encouragement. Hence the manufacturers are become poor, and are obliged to cut off from the usual length of their linens, to the great detriment of the purchaser. By this circumstance only, the French manufacturers have superseded them in the markets, the French being obliged by Law to give more than full measure.

FEBRUARY 27.

The people of England are so far from wishing Lord North to be reduced a step lower than he is, that they heartily desire to have him advanced much higher: Not that they long for his father's, Lord Guildford's death; they only hope to see his son exalted. In short, the people are very reasonable; the House of Peers or the gallows will dissipate all their fears.

The great Farce, composed by Dr. North, and now acting at Westminster, called the King ruins and the people lose, will run, as we are credibly informed, till the end of May next.——N. B. People may well paid for keeping seats in this theatre.

An Irish gentleman calling on Lord Bellamont, while his wound was dressing, observing his Lordship shew some signs of pain, in order to console him told him, he thought he had acted with great spirit, and had received ample satisfaction. Yes, replied his Lordship, but at present it is a satisfaction I am very unsatisfied with.

A few days since a young clergyman, who was quite out of employment, went to a nobleman to offer his service as domestic chaplain; but there being no vacancy for him, he desired to officiate as pollilion, and his services were accepted.

MARCH 2.

It is remarked, that the contempt shewn by the Minister and his tools, for the attacks of the Minority and the clamours without doors, has produced a savage turn in the ministerial tribe; when a gentleman was complaining the other day of the delays in the enquiry about the dearness of provisions, at a time the poor are perishing for want, there is no hurry now, cries an unfeeling courtier, as Lent is approaching, and, by their religion, the poor are to have a forty days fast.

A letter from Naples says, "A Capuchin of this city, whose passions were too strong for his command, was a long time tormented with the desires of the flesh; his violent struggles, however, to mortify and subdue them, according to his vow, at length affected his brain; and in a fit of frenzy, he cut his own throat with a razor."

MARCH 6.

It has been remarked, to the disgrace of a great Company, that amidst all their enquiries into the money transactions in Bengal, not a syllable is ever heard about the three millions of souls which were sent so hastily from thence into the other world, merely to put three millions of money into the pockets of their murderers.

An expression of the Bishop of Osnaburg's, when Jonas, the slight-of-hand man, was lately diverting the Royal children, is talked of with much pleasantry at St. James's. Jonas, it seems, had exhibited many dextrous feats, with which the children were highly delighted; at last the Bishop bursting into a loud laugh, exclaimed, "Why, Jonas, I fancy you could conjure people's heads away; and if you will take off my brother George's, who stands greatly in my light, I shall be highly obliged to you."

MARCH 15.

It is reported at the West end of the town, that the Dukes of Gloucester and Cumberland are to have 20,000*l.* a year settled on each of them this session of Parliament, with a reserve in proportion to any issue they may have by their Duchesses.

Some letters from Turin advise, that the coronation of the new King of Sardinia, is fixed to be in the month of September next.

The last accounts from Madagascar inform, that a current has been discovered within twelve leagues of the Eastern coast of Africa, which runs from 17 S. to 3 N. setting N. E. by N. ½ E. and running at the rate of eight miles an hour, so that the navigation between that island and the continent is greatly facilitated.

Some advices, said to be of an extraordinary nature, were this morning received from Sir Joseph Yorke, his Majesty's Ambassador at the Hague, which occasioned a Cabinet-Council to be summoned this evening.

The last accounts from Bengal inform, that Heyder Ali was again at the head of a numerous army, which was expected soon to be in motion, but their destination is not known.

A letter from Glasgow, dated March 8, says, "An express arrived here this day, informing the Magistrates of this city, that the Baillie and Merchants in Greenock had promised (if it was agreed to by the Merchants here) to give the riotous sailors half wages from the time of signing the articles; but the sailors now insist upon full wages. The Magistrates here have returned for answer, that they are to call a meeting of the Merchants to consult about it, but in the mean time have sent off an express for more military. It seems to be the opinion of the sensible part of the merchants here, that no compromise ought to be gone into with them while they continue so riotous, as they receive 30*s.* per month, which is 5*s.* more than they get either at London or Liverpool."

PARIS (France) March 5. The 17th ult. at ten in the morning, a young man, between seventeen and eighteen years of age, son of the Sieur de Barré, surgeon to the guard at Paris, in endeavouring to loose a boat, in order to convey himself across the Seine, fell into the river, and continued a long while under water before he was taken up, when there did not appear the least symptom of life remaining. He was immediately brought to the corps de garde at the island of Seguin, where were immediately administered to him the remedies ordered to be made use of in an ordinance published in favour of drowned persons, which had so happy an effect that he soon recovered his senses, and recounted how the accident happened, after which he was conducted to his father's house, where he remains in perfect health.

HAGUE (Holland) March 9. Their High Mightinesses have just received some very disagreeable intelligence from the East-Indies, or they entertain a jealousy of the designs of some power against their settlements in India, from the preparations which are now going forward. Eight ships of the line, four frigates, transports, &c. are ordered to be got ready immediately, on board of which there are to be embarked six regiments of foot, with a train of artillery, stores, &c. When this armament is completed, it is to sail to Batavia, there to take further orders.

LONDON, MARCH 16.

A correspondent at the Court end of the town informs us, that our Ministry are at present in the most perplexed situation imaginable, occasioned by the last dispatches from the Continent. The Prussian Monarch, (whose ruling passion is to make himself a maritime power) now meditates the conquest of Swedish Pomerania, and is on the point of marching a powerful army into that country. The French King, bound by the most solemn treaties to guaranty and defend all his Swedish Majesty's dominions, has demanded a passage through Hanover for an army which is ready to march to the assistance of his ally the King of Sweden. If this passage is granted to the French troops, Frederick threatens to take possession of the Electorate of Hanover; and thus, between the Black Eagle of Prussia and the Gallic Cock, our Ministry may be fairly said to be "Between Hawk and Buzzard."

Extract of a Letter from Gibraltar, February 19.

"There are great naval operations now going forward in almost every port belonging to the several states of Barbary, especially at Sallee, Tunis, Marmora, Algiers, and Larache. At Algiers, no less than eight ships, from twenty to fifty guns, are now building under the direction of some European renegadoes; and at the other ports several frigates, gallies, &c. are fitting out and building. These preparations are said to be intended against the Turk, as many of the Barbary states, dependent upon the Porte, have long wished for an opportunity to throw off their allegiance, which now offers, as it is said; they are unanimous in their resolution, and will be supported in it by the Emperor of Morocco."

Extract of a Letter from Paris, March 11.

"One of the Princes of the blood, who lately addressed to the French King a most humiliating recantation, received last Tuesday night a fine rub for it at the Masquerade. A person came there in the whimsical habit of a windmill, with a weather-cock at top. The singularity of the mask attracted the curiosity of numbers who flocked round him, when he was observed to single out particularly for this attack the Prince above alluded to, who asked him if he knew him? "Perfectly well," answered the Mask, "you are one of great note in the Republic of Letters, ever since the famous one you wrote to his Majesty."—To this he added some bold and cutting reflections. After this he went aside, and sitting down, appeared to go to sleep. The Prince greatly hurt at his sarcasms, and yet unwilling to disturb the company, by having him instantly taken up, went to a centinel, and gave him orders to mark that mask, and stop him, without making any noise, as he went out. The mask seemed to stay till the ball was over, but when they went to awake him, they found nothing but the skeleton of the windmill left (much in the way that Harlequin leaves his doctor's gown in the pantomime of Mother Shipton.) This trick horridly provoked the Prince, he desired the Lieutenant-General of the Police to find out, if possible, who it was; his answer was, that he did not despair of discovering him, if the mask did not himself make the windmill. However, he remains hitherto unknown, and it is generally believed he will continue so.

MARCH 17.

Yesterday by virtue of commission from his Majesty, the following bill, with several others, received the royal assent, viz.

The bill to enable the subjects of foreign States, to lend money on freehold or leasehold estates in his Majesty's colonies in America.

Notwithstanding the augmentation of the Civil List is a point no man has yet ventured to agitate, it is believed it will take place before the rise of the present session.

Several remonstrances are preparing in many parts of the kingdom, on the little progress made for taking any salutary measures for the reduction of the present high price of provisions, which they were taught to hope would be the early consequences of the meeting of a certain great assembly.

Charles Stuart, Esq; (son of Lord Bute) is appointed to the command of a company in the 35th regiment of foot.

A Court of Common-Council was held yesterday at Guildhall, when a petition was voted and ordered to be sent to the honourable House of Commons, praying the prevention of state lotteries in time of peace for the future, and ordered to be delivered as usual by the Sheriffs.——A motion was made by Mr. Alderman Sawbridge, that Mr. Chamberlain be directed to pay out of the chamber of this city a sum not exceeding 2000*l.* for allowing a bounty of 4*s.* per quarter for the first 20,000 quarters of foreign wheat of a certain quality, which shall be imported into the port of London between the last day of March, instant, and the 30th day of June next. The question was adjourned to the next court as customary in money matters.

Yesterday in expectation of the report of the Secret and Select Committees being made, the House of Commons was remarkably full. After the Speaker, however, returned from the House of Lords, the order of the day being read, Lord North arose and informed the House, that "though all possible diligence had been used, yet the members of the Committee found it impracticable to lay before the House so much of their report as might enable them to proceed in their inquiry, but that by that day se'nnight a report would be made; he therefore moved to postpone the consideration of the affairs of the East-India Company until next Tuesday." Mr. Hatley and Col. Burgoyne corroborated his Lordship's assertion as to the impracticability of making a report sooner; and the latter gentleman informed them, that "the report on Tuesday next would not be final."

A courier arrived this morning early, with an express, at the Count de Welderen's, the Dutch Ambassador, from the Hague.

The write from Gibraltar, that a Tunisean fleet is sailed for the Levant, which consists of seven ships of forty guns, besides thirteen others of inferior force, with a number of land forces on board.

If we may credit letters which arrived by the last mail from Paris, it appears that the French have taken advantage of our exposing the nakedness of our East-India Company's affairs, and have seriously set about an establishment of a new East-India Company. The plan for this purpose has been so universally approved of by all the merchants in France, that in less than fifteen days the whole subscription money was advanced, and paid into the general fund, which fund amounts to 40,000,000 livres, equal to 1,820,000*l.* sterling. The French King grants this new Company a variety of privileges and advantages, superior to any other Asiatic Company at present established in Europe; and, besides the protection which he grants them of a standing military force, he has articled to furnish them with 8000 tons of shipping yearly, at the rate of 300 livres per ton, (a trifle more than 13*l.* 15*s.* sterling) which is 220 per cent. less than the English East-India Company charge to the proprietors of their stock; and consequently, by this article of tonnage, the new French East-India Company will be enabled to under-sell us in all the teas they import, and thus very considerably enlarge, and monopolize to themselves, the whole trade of tea-smuggling.

Extract of a Letter from Exeter, March 13.

"Every thing seems quiet now in Cornwall, the soldiers who were sent to quell the disturbances having given several of the poor starving tinners their bellies full, upon which the rest are retired to their homes, if not contented, yet fully satisfied with what they have received."

MARCH 18.

Yesterday Lord North acquainted the House of Commons, that out of the 4000*l.* granted by a Vote of last Session, for prosecuting further discoveries towards the South Pole, 1700*l.* had been already paid to Mr. Rhenhold Forster and his son, as Dr. Lind, who had been first designed to prosecute that affair, declined to accept the offer.

Yesterday the Bill for the Relief of Protestants dissenting from the Church of England went through a Committee, and is to be reported on Wednesday next.

The thanks of the public are justly due to the City of London, for their spirited resolution in offering a bounty on the importation of wheat; on this account the market of the Corn Exchange yesterday fell four shillings per quarter.

Sunday last Lord Falmouth's Steward, by order of his Lordship, sent oxen, loaves, and cloaths, to be distributed amongst the Tinminers families, to the amount of 1000*l.* which has been a means of putting a stop to the late riots.

Letters from Hamburgh say, that the Congress at Bucharest is absolutely broken up without any hopes of the negociations for peace proving successful; but our accounts from Hamburgh have so often deceived us, that we do not know how to rely upon them without a confirmation from other places.

HAGUE, (Holland) March 12. According to the last letters from Warsaw, the King of Prussia has delivered to that Court, by Mr. Benoit, his Minister there, a Declaration which is extremely strong, and in which his Prussian Majesty says, among other things, "That he hopes the Diet, which is going to meet, will approve and ratify all that has passed hitherto with respect to Poland; but in case it should happen otherwise, his Prussian Majesty will not only retract the promises he has made with respect to that kingdom, but will make the Polanders sensible that he is not to be offended unpunished, and that he can do without either their approbation or ratification, so that they will pay dear for their ill-timed obstinacy, &c."

LONDON, MARCH 19.

On Wednesday Mr. Sheriff Lewes presented to the House of Commons the following petition from the corporation of London, viz. "Your petitioners, always ready to unite the degree of support necessary for the security, interest, and honour of the nation, cannot help lamenting, with serious concern, the frequent toleration of lotteries, in time of peace; and your petitioners conceive, that such a parliamentary right of gaming (especially in this trading city) is highly injurious to the commerce of this kingdom, and to the welfare and prosperity of the people, many of whom, from an ideal and flattering prospect of rapidly accumulating wealth without the means of honest industry, resort to methods of raising money by dangerous and unwarrantable practices, in order to become adventurers, thereby involving themselves in a labyrinth of difficulties, oftentimes terminating in very distressful consequences, and to the ruin of many families; your petitioners therefore pray the House to give so important a subject that full consideration which the nature of it necessarily requires, and to grant such relief as shall be judged expedient." Which petition was ordered to lie on the table.

Yesterday Sir Watkins Lewes, one of the present Sheriffs with the city Remembrancer, attended at St. James's, to know his Majesty's pleasure when he would receive the address, remonstrance, and petition from the city of London, when his Majesty was pleased to appoint this day se'nnight, at two o'clock, at St. James's.

Besides the great officers of State, we are told that the Peers will be summoned to attend his Majesty on the day appointed for receiving the city remonstrance.

Yesterday at a quarterly Court of the Bank of England, the dividend was unanimously declared, as usual at the rate of five and a half per cent. per annum. The Governor then told the Proprietors that many unfair methods had been taken to depreciate and run down the stock of that Company; but that he had the pleasure to inform them, by authority of the Directors, that their losses had been very inconsiderable, so as not in the least to affect their dividend.

This evening the Right Hon. Lord Mayor will have a grand rout and ball at the Mansion-house, at which are expected many of the nobility, gentry, &c. upwards of 600 cards of invitation having been delivered. The Mansion-house is to be illuminated, both inside and out, in a very grand manner. A number of constables are engaged to keep the way clear, for the company to pass without obstruction.

By all accounts from the Continent, Germany in particular, we must conclude, that a general war must break out this Summer. It is what is expected, we are told by our Ministry, who are not ignorant of the designs and motions of their neighbours. France is buried in the downy bed of love. Venus takes the lead there; whilst Britain views the approaching busy scene, enveloped in the sweets of peace, with the calmness of a stander-by, that cares not which side wins or loses.

Some dispatches were received last week from Queen Matilda, which, if we can credit report, are of no small consequence, not in respect to her Majesty, but us; they have occasioned, it is said, the calling of frequent Councils, who sit much longer than usual; and created a visible extraordinary bustle among our Ministers.

There is a report very prevalent in the coffee-houses of politics at the west end of the town, that the Empress of Russia has made us such an offer, if peace between her and the Porte does not take place, with respect to trade, that we cannot consistently refuse it, which is, to restore and secure to us the Levant trade, that was formerly so advantageous, till the French intrigued us out of it, that the Turkish Company was reckoned the richest Company in the world, and this upon condition of furnishing her with twenty sail of the line.

A letter from Exeter, dated the 16th says, the Judges were preparing to set out for Launceston, in Cornwall, the assize beginning there on Saturday, and that every thing remained quiet throughout the county.

Letters from Paris mention, that some resolutions were lately taken relative to the persons concerned in the opposition to the new Parliaments, in consequence of which some of the most active are to be imprisoned, and others exiled or disgraced.

WARSAW (Poland) March 9. His Polish Majesty has asserted a part of his sovereign prerogative, which it is probable will very soon determine his particular fate. Two of the Imperial Generals, and one of the Russians, have taken the liberty to exact a tax from the inhabitants where their troops are quartered, and otherwise oppressed them in a very arbitrary manner; on their frequent complaints the King remonstrated to the Generals, and at last to their respective Courts, but finding all ineffectual, he at last issued orders for arresting them, which was immediately performed, and they were conducted by a party of horse to the castle of Siradia, where they now remain.

HAGUE, March 13. The Minister from the King of Prussia presented, the 24th of last month, a Memorial respecting his pretensions to the towns of Wesel, Emmerick, Orsoy, Rees, and Rouderick, in the Duchy of Cleves, under the dominion of this Republic. These pretensions, as well as those of the Elector Palatine to a like claim, are at least a century past, and the sum demanded is stated at 4,141,667 florins of Holland. This is not the first time of making the above demand; the Prussian Minister having in 1766, presented a Memorial on the same subject, and another in 1770. The States General gave an Answer to it in 1771, and this now presented is the Reply. The Prussian Minister makes the strongest instance for payment, giving for a reason the calamities occasioned by war. He has offered to the States General to leave it to arbitration, if their High Mightinesses shall choose rather a direct accommodation.

The following Paper was publiſhed by Order of the Noble Perſonages whoſe Names are reſpectively ſubſcribed to it. It contains a true State of the Tranſactions which gave Riſe to the Quarrel between Lord Townſhend and Lord Bellamont, and of the ſubſequent Proceedings relative thereto.

SEVERAL paragraphs having appeared in the public papers, which have, under the ſpecious pretence of giving a true ſtate of the tranſactions between the Lords Bellamont and Townſhend, introduced the moſt falſe concluſions, by a preamble of real, known, and avowed facts, it becomes our indiſpenſible duty to make public the following true ſtate of that proceeding, which we hereby authorize you to do.

On Thurſday the 23th of laſt month, Lord Bellamont employed Lord Charlemont to wait on Lord Townſhend with the following paper, which he read to Lord Townſhend. It will fully explain the nature of the offence given to Lord Bellamont at the Caſtle of Dublin in Feb. 1770, and was as follows:

"I wait upon your Lordſhip by deſire of Lord Bellamont: firſt, to return your Lordſhip his thanks for the recommendations to the King, with which you honoured him, and for which it was his intention to have thanked you in perſon, if you had done him the favour to receive him the laſt time that he attended by your Lordſhip's appointment for private audience. I am further to acquaint your Lordſhip, that Lord Bellamont thought it his duty not to break in upon your Lordſhip at an earlier day, leſt he ſhould interrupt you in giving an account of your high commiſſion to the King, or in taking an account of your own important affairs. But as your Lordſhip has now been twelve days in town, he conceives that he may with propriety remind your Lordſhip of the diſreſpect thrown upon him by the meſſage delivered to him from your Lordſhip by your aid de camp, of which Lord Bellamont makes no doubt your Lordſhip retains a perfect recollection, it having been of that force as to have obliged him to reſign his employment in the army, in order that he might be at liberty to call upon your Lordſhip for an adequate apology, without incurring the King's diſpleaſure. But leſt your Lordſhip ſhould not have a minute recollection of that tranſaction at this diſtance of time, Lord Bellamont has ſtated it as follows:

"When Lord Bellamont, after ſeveral repeated attendances by appointment, on all which occaſions he had been put off without ſeeing your Lordſhip, did again wait upon your Lordſhip by appointment, the aid de camp in waiting having gone down to your Lordſhip and returned, addreſſed Lord Bellamont in an audible voice, and acquainted him, that he need not ſtay any longer, for that your Lordſhip would not be at leiſure to ſee him that day;" and at the ſame time turning to ſeveral other perſons of different ranks and profeſſion, he told them that your Lordſhip requeſted they would wait, as your Lordſhip would ſee them, however late it might be before you could finiſh with them, or words to that effect. Lord Bellamont replied to the aid-de-camp, his Excellency will be pleaſed to aſcertain at what time he will ſee me. I have already waited ſeveral times by appointment, and have been ſent away each time. To which the aid-de-camp brought back the following meſſage to Lord Bellamont: His Excellency commands me to tell your Lordſhip, that he uſually does military buſineſs on Wedneſdays, and any other buſineſs on Thurſdays; that if your Lordſhip comes on either of thoſe days, and that his Excellency ſhall be at leiſure, he will ſee you among others in your turn. To which Lord Bellamont replied, Sir, you will be ſo good as to inform his Excellency, that as a Peer of the realm, I have a right to audience; but if his excellency does not know what he owes to me, I know what I owe to myſelf, and therefore will not wait upon him here or elſewhere. I will write a letter to his Excellency, ſtating my buſineſs, to which I expect he will ſhew due attention, as it nearly concerns a reſpectable corps of officers.

"This, my Lord, is, as Lord Bellamont conceives, an exact ſtate of the reciprocal meſſages which paſſed between your Lordſhip and Lord Bellamont; but, as he did not take them down in writing, he cannot poſſibly aver to each ſyllable. This, however, he can poſitively affirm, that ſuch was the matter of the meſſage, and the terms in which it was conceived, though manifeſtly ſoftened by the aid de camp, that the idea which it conveyed to every perſon preſent was that of an intentional indignity wantonly caſt on Lord Bellamont by your Lordſhip. Lord Bellamont conceives that an aid de camp is the authentic meſſenger of his ſuperior, and therefore that a meſſage delivered by the one is as the litera ſcripta of the other. Lord Bellamont conſiders your Lordſhip alone reſponſible to him, and your Lordſhip the only perſon with whom he is to account. The injury is of public notoriety, and therefore an affront upon record, which does not admit of any negociation."

Lord Townſhend having aſked what apology Lord Bellamont required, Lord Charlemont read the following article:

"The only apology, which the nature of the affront will admit of, is that of aſking Lord Bellamont's pardon. Lord Bellamont does not mean to hurry your Lordſhip in any thing, but expects your Lordſhip's anſwer in a reaſonable time; at all events one day at leaſt before your Lordſhip leaves town."

Lord Townſhend made anſwer, I cannot aſk pardon, as it would be an acknowledgement of an offence I never intended.

Lord Charlemont replied, I am not at liberty to take back any other anſwer to Lord Bellamont, than that your Lordſhip aſks his pardon, or deſires to take time to conſider of aſking it: I therefore intreat your Lordſhip will reflect, before you lay me under an abſolute neceſſity of delivering another meſſage to your Lordſhip, which Lord Bellamont ſends with the utmoſt regret, and which I ſhall deliver with equal reluctancy.

Lord Townſhend having perſiſted in his refuſal, Lord Charlemont read to Lord Townſhend the following meſſage:

"I am enjoined by Lord Bellamont to tell your Lordſhip from him, that he conſiders you diveſted of every principle that conſtitutes the character of a man of honour.

Upon Lord Charlemont's delivery of this laſt meſſage, Lord Townſhend begged his permiſſion to call in a friend to be witneſs of it. Colonel Fitzroy being come in, Lord Townſhend requeſted, that Lord Charlemont would again read this laſt meſſage. Lord Charlemont thereupon read the entire paper a ſecond time; and being requeſted by Lord Townſhend to carry back an anſwer to Lord Bellamont, Lord Charlemont, conformable to his private inſtructions from Lord Bellamont, replied, that any meſſage Lord Townſhend might have to ſend, muſt be ſent by a meſſenger of his own.

On Saturday the 26th. at half an hour after eleven o'clock at night, Lord Bellamont received the following letter from Lord Ligonier:

" My Lord, December 28th, 1772.

" I have a meſſage to deliver to your Lordſhip from Lord Townſhend, and beg to know when I may be allowed to wait on you. I have the honour to be, My Lord,

Your Lordſhip's moſt obedient,

Moſt humble ſervant,

North Audley ſtreet. LIGONIER."

To the Earl of Bellamont.

To which Lord Bellamont ſent the following anſwer:

" My Lord,

" I this moment received the honour of your Lordſhip's letter, communicating to me, that you have a meſſage to me from Lord Townſhend, and deſiring to know when I ſhall be at home to receive your Lordſhip. I ſhall not go abroad to-morrow, but will wait at home to have the honour of receiving your Lordſhip, and any commands you may have for me. I have the honour to be, My Lord,

Your Lordſhip's very humble,

Curzon-Street. And obedient Servant,

BELLAMONT."

Saturday Night, half after 11 o'Clock.

To Lord Viſcount Ligonier,

On Sunday morning at eleven o'clock Lord Ligonier waited on Lord Bellamont, who anticipating Lord Ligonier ſaid, before I receive the meſſage your Lordſhip has to deliver me, I muſt beg leave to call in Lord Charlemont, in order that, as Col. Frazer was preſent at the delivery of my meſſage to Lord Townſhend, Lord Charlemont may be preſent at the delivery of Lord Townſhend's meſſage to me; to which Lord Ligonier immediately conſented. Lord Charlemont being called in, Lord Bellamont ſaid, the tranſaction had, he ſuppoſed, been related to Lord Ligonier on the part of Lord Townſhend. He wiſhed it ſhould be related by Lord Claremont on the part of him, for he ſhould be concerned to be miſconceived by Lord Ligonier, for whom he had a high reſpect; and that from the moment that Lord Ligonier ſhould have delivered Lord Townſhend's meſſage, he did not think it proper for himſelf or friend to ſpeak another word; of which Lord Ligonier having expreſſed his approbation, Lord Charlemont read the paper to Lord Ligonier, which he had by Lord Bellamant's deſire read to Lord Townſhend. Lord Ligonier then addreſſing Lord Bellamont, ſaid, " What will your Lordſhip ſay when, notwithſtanding the force of this meſſage, I tell you I am authorized by Lord Townſhend to aſſure your Lordſhip he never meant to offend you?" Lord Bellamont, after a little pauſe, replied, " I confeſs, my Lord, this is more than I expected; but ſince then Lord Townſhend's firſt care is to juſtify his intentions towards me even under his preſent ſituation, let him do it in ſuch a manner as to juſtify me in releaſing him from that ſituation. The apology your Lordſhip has now delivered to me is not yet entirely ſufficient." Lord Ligonier deſired leave to go back to Lord Townſhend, and ſhortly returned with the following meſſage:—" Lord Townſhend has already aſſured your Lordſhip he never meant to offend you. He further aſſures you he is ſorry for the affair." Lord Bellamont then ſaid, " Before I proceed any further, I muſt deſire that Lord Ancram be ſent for, as he has this morning accepted the office of being my friend in the field if I ſhall be called upon." Lord Ancram being arrived, and informed by the Lords Charlemont and Ligonier of what had paſſed, the Lords Charlemont and Ancram declared that nothing more could be demanded; and then with Lord Ligonier ſaid, that Lord Bellamont could not ſurely require that Lord Townſhend ſhould aſk his pardon for an offence which he had now in the moſt ſatisfactory manner declared he had never committed. Lord Bellamont made anſwer, " My Lords, I feel as you do, that every thing is implied in this apology; but it is neceſſary that it be fully expreſſed;" and having deſired leave to retire into another room to conſider the matter more clearly, he returned with the following written paper, which he gave to Lord Ligonier, telling him at the ſame time, that he did not tie him down to the letter, but that was the purport of the only reparation he could receive, viz. " Lord Townſhend does admit that the meſſage delivered to Lord Bellamont by his aid de camp was highly offenſive; he therefore diſavows it as ſuch, and declares that it was not in his intentions to give Lord Bellamont any offence, and that he is very much concerned for the miſtake." Lord Ligonier accordingly waited on Lord Townſhend with the ſaid paper, and brought back to Lord Bellamont an apology conſonant to the full and entire purport of it conceived in the moſt ſatisfactory terms, Lord Bellamont immediately requeſted Lord Ligonier would aſſure Lord Townſhend, that as Lord Townſhend had by that laſt apology done away the foundation of the meſſage delivered from him to Lord Townſhend by Lord Charlemont, he had very great pleaſure in declaring it cancelled and annulled. CHARLEMONT. (L. S.)

ANCRAM. (L. S.)

" I cannot refuſe ſigning the paper delivered to me this morning without aſſigning my reaſons for it; and I flatter myſelf the motive of my declining it will juſtify me to the world.

" I aſſent to the facts and progreſſions as ſtated, but I was miſunderſtood if what I ſaid relative to Lord Townſhend was conſidered as a meſſage from him. It certainly was not Lord Townſhend's intentions it ſhould be ſo, though I was authoriſed to ſay it from Lord Townſhend to Lord Bellamont, which diſtinction I did not make to Lord Bellamont.

" As I wiſhed, from motives of humanity, to bring the affair to an honourable concluſion, without coming to extremities, I propoſed returning to Lord Townſhend. My view in ſo doing was that of promoting an accommodation honourable to both.

" If I conveyed any other idea to the Lords on my return from Lord Townſhend than a confirmation that his Lordſhip had intended no affront or injury to Lord Bellamont, and that he diſapproved the manner of the aid de camp, I have to regret that I had not the good fortune to explain myſelf according to my own ideas and thoſe of Lord Townſhend.

" In juſtice to Lord Townſhend, I muſt beg leave to obſerve, that whatever expreſſions of concern he might make uſe of on this miſunderſtanding, aroſe from the regret every man of honour muſt feel under a ſuppoſition of having given offence. This is what I underſtood from Lord Townſhend, and what I meant to convey.

" I cannot but perſevere in declining to ſign the paper, as I find upon conſideration that what I thought an explanation, equally honourable to both, may be conſtrued into a ſubmiſſive apology, which muſt appear humiliating to Lord Townſhend.

" What impreſſions may have been received from any expreſſions of mine in the many private converſations I have had on this painful event, I will not preſume to determine; but I declare upon my honour I have had no other view than to terminate this affair to the honour of all parties, and ſhall lament if my endeavours ſhall be fruſtrated.

January 29, 1773. LIGONIER, (L. S.)"

Notice to the Sheep-Stealing Gentry.

WHEREAS it is a common Practice with many of the Northward Coasters, to put into Bull's Island (as they say, to take in fresh Stock) and very lately, my Overseer followed the Tracks of Six or Eight Sheep, that had been lugged along to a Boat at the East End of said Island, being provided, as it is thought, with Dogs trained for that Purpose:—Now, if any Seaman, that belonged to any of those Vessels, will give Information to me, that the Master was guilty of feloniously taking away any of my Stock on said Island, I promise to give a Reward of FIFTY POUNDS Currency, to be paid on Conviction of the Offender.

April 27, 1773. THOMAS SHUBRICK.

For SALE privately,

The following Property of BENJAMIN GUERARD,

Which he is desirous of SELLING,

To have his Interest in one Place, viz.

A Very valuable Tract of 1000 Acres of Land, situate in Prince William's Parish, between Combahee and Port-Royal Ferries, having on it a Sufficiency of choice high Land for two profitable Indico Plantations; between which Two Hundred and Fifty Barrels of Rice may be made in a Year, as Ground to yield that Quantity of Barrels can be flowed with Water:—No Part of it was ever planted, but Sixty or Eighty Acres are cleared to begin one Plantation, FRESH and NEW, and therefore the BETTER and CHEAPER. It is esteemed as fine a Tract for its Size as most in the Province, the up Land being high, so that Land Floods can never hurt the Crops of Indico and Corn thereon planted:——The Purchaser, from the Red-Oak Trees that must unavoidably come down, in order to his making his Fields, may strip a vast Number of Cords of Bark.

So complete a Tract as this, and of the like Distance from Charles-Town, is very rarely to be found for Sale; which would require no Recommendation, if a View by every one in Want of such could be taken of it, and which, considering the high Price of good Lands, will be sold cheap.——It pays no Quit-Rents, being Part of the Rich Lands included in Thomas Lowndes's Grant; and, as 'tis too late in the Season to prepare for Planting for the ensuing Crop, the Purchaser's Bond shall not carry Interest 'till Six Months from the Date are elapsed.

A delightful RETREAT,

Eight Miles by Land or Water from Town, known to be as well situated for Pleasantness and Agreeableness of Prospect as most Seats in the Province; on which, open to several Parts of that beautiful River, Ashley River, stands an elegant House, with handsome commodious Offices.

With which will be SOLD,

The large Quantity of very genteel Furniture

Now in the said House.

A very easy and desirable Distance for a Carriage and Four or Six Horses, as a Gentleman may come to his Business in Town in the Morning, and return to his Family in the Evening.——The Inconvenience of not having such a Place for a Family, is at all Times great, and much more so, when contagious Disorders rage in the Metropolis, or those few Months in the Year arrive, so destructive to Infants kept in Town.

It contains Three Hundred Acres of Land, and is allowed to have the best Pasture in the Neighbourhood (having kept all the Cattle thereabouts in good Condition for several Years past) of which Two are now inclosed with a strong new Fence, as is also a Meadow for making Hay; has great Plenty of Fencing and Fire-Wood Trees, and, by a Gentleman having a Turn that Way, may be made a Place of some Profit as well as Pleasure, as good Crops of Corn have been made on it, and one Year, when planted with that Grain, Sixty Barrels of Rice; but what can be more Profitable to grow on it than the Grass it luxuriantly bears, as HAY (made with a very few Hands) is an Article of so great Demand in Town, and never sells for less than Ten Pounds per Thousand Weight, although often near One-Third Brambles.——It may be viewed at any Time.

His Two HOUSES in Town;

The one on the Corner of the Bay, near the Exchange, and the other adjoining, in Broad-Street, which (and that very low) rent for £. 960 per Annum, and are so advantageously situated for Trade, as will never be untenated;—besides which Advantage, it is well known these Houses were not built as those which are intended to be Lett, no Cost nor Pains being spared in getting the Materials the best of their Kind, which were put together in the most faithful and neat Manner:—The Wood Materials are of the best of Yellow Pine and Black Cypress, and the Mortar made of Fresh-Water River Gravel, so strong a Cement as that none of the Tiles in the Great Hurricane 1752, were blown off, whilst the Roofs of most of the Houses tiled or slated were entirely uncovered thereby.

It has been often desired that the Corner House should be made a COFFEE-HOUSE,—£. 1050 a Year Rent will be insured, but there is no Doubt that £. 1100 can be got for them, as the Rents were never increased since the Building of the Exchange, as should be.—The Terms to the Purchasers shall be made as convenient as they can desire.——Please to apply to

JACOB VALK.

To be LETT or SOLD,

TWO TENEMENTS,

In Colleton's Square, Ellery-Street.

Any Person inclinable to purchase, shall have them on such Terms as to enable him to make Twelve per Cent. Interest, for his Money.——For further Particulars, enquire of
